ATTENDANCE AT SCHOOL IS GROWING

Lower Grades Overcrowded And Trustees Decide To Add Another Teacher To The Staff at Once

Although there has been a considerable falling off in the population of the town during the present straggling school attendance is keeping well up to the average. In fact it is increasing almost daily and at such a rate that the board now finds that the time has arrived to add one more teacher to the staff. While a number of men left town for the harvest fields and to seek other employment, it is evident they are leaving the families here as it is one of the cheapest places in the west to live. This fact is shown by school attendance.

The overcrowding is most noticeable in the lower grades and to relieve the overcrowded condition in these departments it has been decided to divide Miss Wapstall's room and secure another teacher. This has not been done just as soon as another teacher can be secured.

Start Subscription For Patriotic Fund

Steps are now about to be undertaken for a fresh appeal to the generous public throughout all Canada for the Patriotic Fund. Wherever possible, subscriptions will be sought payable in monthly instalments, so that the fund may have a continuous income to the end of the war. So few communities now remain that have not subscribed at least once, that the executive committee feels justified in asking all Canada to give a second time.

Until the youngest among us are grey-headed, and for many long years after, the one outstanding event will be this great great war. We may still continue to use the old chronology, but events of modern history will be divided into those before and those after this present war. It has been a great testing time for nations and individuals. The heaviest civilization of some countries has been found to be but a thin mask, of others to have shown unexpected heroism. For the British Empire, judged by its enemies to be decadent, money-loving, rent by dissension, it has proven a time of sublime effort. As with nations so it is with individuals. Hereafter the one question that will be asked regarding men will be, "How did he stand the test of the great war?" Those who can stand to fight, and those who cannot fight should pay. Those who will do neither are unworthy the liberties they enjoy, for which men by the thousands are dying.

After all, this great cloud has a silver lining. It may lead those of us who inherited privilege to the little prize, to hold them hereafter in higher estimation, and to exercise the rights of self government with greater usefulness and power. If this be accomplished, the sacrifice will not have been in vain.

Playing With Matches Cause of Many Fires

No fewer than 683 fires, one million and a half dollars damage to property and the loss of 38 lives occurred during the year 1914 as the result of children playing with matches.

Matches should, therefore, receive attention as a danger of primary importance. Keep them away from children, place them on a high shelf far out of their reach, for they love to play with fire, and matches form an ideal toy from their point of view.

If it were possible to convey in the brief detail the account of the fires in Canada where 38 children lost their lives, the excitement and nervous tension, the loss of property, the anguish of parents, the pain of the little child, some measure of reform must soon be effected.

Mothers should ever after guard their children against matches, as they would protect them against a terrible and monstrous.

Two Redcliff Men Lost on the Prairie

Councillor Oates and W. Keats had an experience while out shooting last Thursday afternoon which they will not soon forget. They went out into the coldest west of town after prairie chicken but before they saw any chicken they had been lost for three hours. They tied their horse to the fence and after Mr. and Mrs. Cogate they went, so intervening was the chase that the hunters forgot all about their horse pursued their game till darkness set in. With the darkness came a blustering cold and with the cold something within themselves which told them the usual supper hour was at hand. Naturally, the hunters where they thought the faithful stand with the hope of having it take them home to where a warm welcome and a juicy beefsteak was awaiting them. But alas the horse was not there. The poor hunters were lost, and lost without sight of any sign of life. They must walk home and leave the horse to his fate. They did, and on arriving in town looked more as though they had been hunting for mermaids than chicken. On arriving here, however, they secured a car, and the Redcliff game and with the assistance of the headlights on the car they were not long in locating the horse in a fence on the prairie just where they had left him. They say now that the next time they go after chicken it will not be after dark.

Russians Are Holding Germans in Check

The only part of the Russian front that display any great activity now are the Drinsk sector and the sector in the middle of the Volynia. At Drinsk, despite unceasing efforts, the Germans are still held at gunboat distance, and whenever they make a vigorous attack they suffer repulse with losses from Russian artillery fire.

General von Buelow in taking Drinsk very seriously. Along the Wilkowitz field there have been heavy losses. Heavy guns and ammunition are being brought up continuously to the front. The German forces immediately opposite Drinsk are being strengthened, but the flanks are wavering. North of Drinsk the Russians are pushing the Germans, driving them out of village after village. South of Drinsk the enemy's front is being broken and the Germans are being driven back. The fact that most of the work of the day has been done by the artillery has spoiled the infantry, who now, at the last season, far from home and at the moment of greatest weariness, are compelled to attack under novel conditions of deadly Russian fire.

There is no doubt that the German soldiers are very tired. The testimony of both prisoners and refugees is that the Russian soldiers are very tired. The fact that most of the work of the day has been done by the artillery has spoiled the infantry, who now, at the last season, far from home and at the moment of greatest weariness, are compelled to attack under novel conditions of deadly Russian fire.

British Credit Is Strong As Gibraltar

The allies' loan in the United States after making due allowance for the fact that the British credit is strong as Gibraltar. It is another tribute to the substance of British credit. It has stood firm, like the Rock of Gibraltar, before the financial and economic winds and waves, in the most troublous sea of history. Nothing has shaken British credit. Nothing can shake it. That fact is known equally well by every Britisher, Yankee and German alike. The pound sterling has stood firm, like the Rock of Gibraltar, before the financial and economic winds and waves, in the most troublous sea of history. Nothing has shaken British credit. Nothing can shake it. That fact is known equally well by every Britisher, Yankee and German alike.

Great Britain and France have not improved in the United States because they need money. They have effected this credit arrangement in order to stabilize exchange and allow the volume of trade across the Atlantic to proceed without disturbance. As James J. Hill said in a recent interview, the loan is of just as much importance to the United States as it is to the allies. It is the medium for the exchange of goods and services to go business without obstacles. Great Britain's first foreign loan is another one of the British determination.

The first game of the World's best ball series was played in Philadelphia today between Philadelphia and Boston, the former winning out by three runs to one.

The weather was fine for the game and there was a big crowd in attendance.

The game from start to finish was a spectacular one and remained in doubt till the finish.

The batteries were—Philadelphia, Alexander, Burns, Boston, Shibe, Cady.

Philadelphia scored one in the 4th and won the 5th. Boston scored their only run in the 8th.

Redcliff Boy Now At The Dardanelles

A. B. Clow, formerly town solicitor for Redcliff, but who left here just before the outbreak of war on a visit to his home in Scotland, and almost immediately after his arrival there joined the colors, is now at the Dardanelles.

Frank Bledsoe received a letter from Mr. Clow, who at the time of writing was in the field, that he had been in the firing by the time the letter reached here. Mr. Clow already has four brothers at the front and just before leaving himself received word that his youngest brother was killed in action.

Submarines Sail From Canada to Gibraltar

A fleet of American-built submarines which ventured across the Atlantic to join the British naval forces at Gibraltar made the passage safely under its own power and without extraordinary discomfort for the crews, according to letters received from the men who shared in the expedition.

Convoys by larger warships, the little squadron of four vessels, fresh from the yards at which they were assembled in Montreal, proceeded down the St. Lawrence river, and after a stop at St. John's, Nfld., put to sea for Gibraltar. No extremely rough weather was encountered, and all the boats were able to make the long run under their own power.

The flotilla forms part of a group of ten submarines for which the British admiralty had contracted in the United States. After Washington had decreed that the construction of the vessels in that country would be a violation of neutrality, the parts were shipped to Canada and were completed in the yards of the Vickers-Maxim Company, an English concern, which has been established a branch in Montreal. The building of merchant ships. By the middle of July the submarines were ready for the voyage and on September 1st they arrived from England, conducted a series of trials in the St. Lawrence river. When it was established that the new vessels were seaworthy they sailed from Montreal under convoy of the Canadian fleet, and after a stop at Anticosti, in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, they were joined by the merchant cruiser Calypso.

Canadians Are Now In Front Trenches

The second Canadian division now in the front trenches in France is evidently getting its baptism of fire. A number of casualties were reported in the second division last Saturday night while a few names of men and officers of the first division are also filtering in. This indicates that the Canadians are now taking an active part in the allies' offensive movement. The list of casualties, however, so far is comparatively small with the number of killed less than a score.

Robinson—Oakland

A quiet wedding took place at St. John's man, Medicine Hat, yesterday afternoon when the Rev. J. W. Morrow united in holy wedlock the young Redcliff people in the persons of Charles Robinson and Florence Robinson.

The bride, acted as bridesmaid and the groom's brother, M. Robinson, was the best man. Only the immediate friends of the young couple were present.

After the wedding the young couple and their friends motored to Redcliff where they enjoyed a dainty wedding dinner at the home of the bride's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Robinson have secured temporary quarters in the Howard building but will move shortly to their new place of residence.

Offensive Is Again Under Way In France

A battle of decisive character is believed to have been fought on the Anglo-French front.

Artillery fire has been breaking over the trenches on both sides for 48 hours without interruption. The Germans are making desperate, unexpected attacks and to launch counter-offensives. The greatest activity is reported from La Bassée south to Arras.

Secure Passport If Going to Britain

Before passengers may land in Great Britain, it is necessary for them to satisfy the allies' officers at the port of arrival that they are either British subjects or property accredited citizens of a friendly or neutral nation. In order that passengers may experience no trouble in landing, most and leaving some sort of seal or stamp of official nature. A letter from the mayor or chief of police, or officer of the port, or a letter from a notary public, or a letter from a lawyer, stating that the person in question is known to them and known to be a British subject, is sufficient. This letter should also bear a specimen signature of the passenger made in the presence of the person issuing the letter.

Mrs. D. McFarland Passes Away Suddenly

One of the saddest deaths we have here, called upon to record for some time occurred at the home of Daniel McFarlane yesterday morning when his young wife suddenly passed away. Mrs. McFarlane gave birth to a son a week ago and had been progressing most favorably until late Wednesday night when she suddenly developed an acute attack of embolism which ultimately resulted in heart failure, and she died early Thursday morning.

Deceased, who was 33 years of age, came to this district nine years ago with her husband from Kingston, Ont., and since that time has lived on their farm ten miles west of here.

The young wife, deceased, leaves a son one year three months old, her last baby being still born.

The funeral will leave here tonight for Kingston for interment.

Germany Disavows Sinking of the Arabic

Secretary Lansing announced that Wednesday that Germany had disavowed the sinking of the Arabic and was prepared to pay an indemnity for the loss of the vessel.

Secretary Lansing gave out the text of a letter received from Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, which was as follows:

"My Dear Mr. Secretary: Prompted by the desire to reach a satisfactory agreement with regard to the Arabic incident, my government has given me the following instructions: 'The sinking of the Arabic, the ship of the emperor to the commanders of the German submarines, of which I notified you on a previous occasion, has been made so stringent that the recurrence of incidents similar to the Arabic case is considered out of the question.'

"According to the report of Commander Schneider, of the submarine U-30, which sank the Arabic, and his affidavit, as well as those of his men, Commander Schneider was convinced that the Arabic intended to ram the submarine."

"On the other hand, the imperial government does not doubt the good faith of the submarine. The attack of the Arabic did not intend to sink the submarine. The attack of the submarine was undertaken against the instructions issued to the commander. The imperial government regrets and disavows this act, and has notified Commander Schneider accordingly."

"Under these circumstances my government is prepared to pay an indemnity for American lives which it is believed to have been lost on the Arabic. I am authorized to negotiate with you about the amount of this indemnity."

"I remain, my dear Mr. Lansing, yours very sincerely,
(Signed) J. VON BERNSTORFF.

Oil Leases Will Be Cancelled Unless Paid

Oil companies and oil leases are beginning to receive the formal notice from the Dominion department of the interior notifying them that leases on which extensions have been given up to October 15, 1915, will be cancelled on November 15, next, unless half the second year's rental is paid by that date.

U.F.A. Places Average Yield at 35 Per Acre

At the meeting of the directors of the United Farmers of Alberta last Friday considerable discussion of the grain yield of the province took place. It was the opinion that the average yield per acre for the whole province would run between 30 and 35 bushels.

Most of the directors were of the opinion that the yield would be run between 30 and 35 bushels per acre but it was thought best to be slightly on the conservative side and make it between 30 and 35. This is a high estimate of average yield for the province which has been very good publicity and coming from a reliable source of information.

OFFENSIVE IN BALKANS HAS NOW STARTED

Army of 400,000 Austrian Germans Attack Serbia— Anglo-French Troops Are Hurrying to Assistance

The long threatened Austro-German offensive in the Balkans, with the added menace of Bulgaria, has begun in earnest. Almost simultaneously with the rupture of diplomatic relations between Sofia and the entente powers an Austro-German army, estimated at 400,000 men, with an enormous weight of heavy artillery, started to attack Serbia from the north and west and, according to a Berlin report, crossed the Drina, Danube and Save rivers, and many points firmly established in the Serbian side.

The Anglo-French troops which landed at Saloniki with the tacit consent of the Greek government are being hurried northward to assist Serbia and, if possible, to keep the Bulgarians from capturing the Saloniki-Nish railway, the only artery by which the Serbians can be fed munitions of war. The hoped-for support from Greece is still forthcoming. A new Greek cabinet, composed of men of pro-German and pro-ally sympathies, has been appointed and the cabinet is expected to make a statement of opinion for the hand of the government and insists on action on the side of the allies. Greece will remain neutral.

The Oil Probe Is Declared Illegal

By what was practically a unanimous judgment, the appellate division of the Alberta supreme court, decided to grant the injunction asked by the Big Diamond Oil Company of Calgary against Judge Carpenter, commissioner to investigate oil companies of Alberta, from probing the affairs of that company.

The judgment was a lengthy one, was delivered by Hon. Chief Justice Harvey, Justices Scott, Stuart and Gilmour concurring. Mr. Justice Beck delivered a separate judgment, but its effect was the same, as he held that the inquiry was illegal.

The judgment practically means that the oil probe has been lost on the Arabic. I am authorized to negotiate with you about the amount of this indemnity."

"I remain, my dear Mr. Lansing, yours very sincerely,
(Signed) J. VON BERNSTORFF.

Bulgarian Minister and the Ultimatum

The crown council of Bulgaria, according to a Geneva dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company, spent several hours in discussing the Russian ultimatum, without arriving at a decision.

The same authority declares that Gen. Savoff, former minister of war and former commander-in-chief of the Bulgarian army, is circulating a thrilling speech said:

"Every Bulgarian who breaks away from Bulgaria will be treated as a traitor to his country."

Premier Radokoffsky of Bulgaria, has assured the Greek minister at Sofia that Bulgaria will not attack Serbia unless aggressive action against Serbia first is taken by Austria and Germany in which case Bulgaria will be obliged to act against her neighbor.

London to Cut Down The Drinking Hours

In addition to the "no treating" order, the city of London, with its large surrounding district, will be subjected to regulations drastically curtailing the hours of drinking, says the Times. Under the new order which is to be formulated, it is expected that alcoholic drinks may be dispensed at licensed places and at public houses, and between 6 and 9 o'clock in the evening. Some plan for exemption in exceptional cases still is under consideration.

THANKSGIVING DAY

Next Monday people all over Canada will be called upon to celebrate the Dominion's annual Thanksgiving Day. The occasion this year will be one unprecedented in the history of this country. Ever since the first celebration of this event in Canada there has been nothing of a universal nature to hinder the people of this Dominion from entering heartily into the spirit of the occasion and observing it as a Thanksgiving day in very surety. This year, however, when the Empire of which we form an important part, is engaged in the most titanic war in history, and the battle fields of Europe are scarlet with a hemorage of human blood, we may wonder what there is to be thankful for. We have, nevertheless, much to be thankful for when we remember why the first Thanksgiving day was held and why its annual observance has been perpetuated.

The first Thanksgiving Day was held by the Plymouth Pilgrims in 1621 in acknowledgment of their first harvest in America. It was afterwards adopted by many of states of the Union and in 1863, by proclamation of President Lincoln, it became a national celebration in recognition of the year's blessings. Now almost every country sets aside one day in the year for that purpose.

In view of the fact, therefore, that the first Thanksgiving Day was held to offer up thanks to "The Giver of every good and perfect gift" for a bountiful harvest on this continent, there never has been a time since that first occasion when the people of this continent have had more reason for real, genuine thankfulness. This year the country both north and south of the forty-ninth parallel has reaped the greatest harvest in the history of this continent, and it has come at a time when it was most needed. It surely has been a land "with milk and honey blessed," a land whose "seed time and harvest have not failed," a land whose people have not been forsaken nor compelled to beg for bread.

If not this something to be thankful for? Nor is this all. Even though we are at war—because our motherland is at war—we have reason to be thankful that we, with our allies, are fighting for a principle which places honor and virtue above the external advantages of place and power; fighting for a "scrap of paper" which says that poor little Belgium shall be protected from the ravages of a foe which has sacrificed its honor on the altar of a boundless ambition for supremacy, and fighting to the last man and the last dollar for other weaker European nations.

Yes, even in these strenuous times we have much to be thankful for at this Thanksgiving season.

THE WHEAT MARKET

The price paid for wheat here at the present time is being compared with the price paid in Liverpool for the same wheat and newspapers all over the country are trying to figure out why there should be such a large spread in these prices and wondering who is getting the rake-off. Some papers are offering suggestions to remedy the situation and among them is the Grain Growers Guide which calls for free wheat to the States.

Reciprocity was turned down by the people of Canada four years ago—but what might have been good business four years ago might be very poor business in these times when precedents are thrown to the four winds. If free wheat to the United States is going to help the price of wheat here at the present time we say by all means have free wheat. Usually when one is looking for a market for his goods with the hope of getting a good price, he looks to a country which does not produce the goods he has for sale. This being the case we cannot see how an open market to a country which has 370 million bushels of wheat of a surplus is going to help matters any. After attending to the local demand the United States will have more wheat to ship than was grown in all Canada. The Grain Growers' Guide solution looks like talking coals to Newcastle. As well expect Havre, Montana, to find a market for its natural gas in Redcliff where we have millions of cubic feet of it waiting to be harnessed.

No, the cause and the remedy both rest with ourselves and there is no institution more responsible for present conditions than the very corporation for which the Grain Growers' Guide is the mouth piece. That is the Grain Growers' Grain Company. The Guide's attitude in this matter is simply to draw a herring across the trail and try to shift the responsibility.

Last Friday wheat was quoted here at 72c per bushel for No. 1. At the same time it was quoted in Liverpool at $1.65. Previously it cost four and five cents a bushel to ship grain across the Atlantic. This year—on account of the war we are told—the rate is 32c a bushel. This brings the freight from here to Liverpool up to 60c per bushel. Add this freight rate to the price paid here and you have only $1.32 per bushel, yet wheat is selling in Liverpool at $1.65.

What then becomes of the other 33c? Either the farmer here is being skinned or the buyer in Liverpool is being soaked, or probably both. Free wheat to the United States cannot be the plain away that 33c. The Grain Growers' Grain Company, was the Guide's pet organization, was started to protect the farmer from being skinned by other greedy speculators. It's a wonder, then the Guide cannot figure out where that 33c is going. We wonder if the Grain Growers' Grain Company is not getting its share of it, as we have never heard of it coming very paying 33c a bushel more for wheat than other companies in the same business.

The Guide has evidently never heard of the story which is credited to Lincoln about fooling all the people all the time.

No, free wheat is not the solution of the present conditions. The remedy is in finding out where that 33c is going and dividing it up between the producer and consumer, and then busting up the Atlantic shipping ring which is now charging such exorbitant rates.

The Calgary News-Telegram suggests that Britain should give a preference to Canadian wheat and control its transportation across the Atlantic. This looks like a feasible solution and could be done in much the same manner as the book after her meat supply when foreign patriots tried to corner the meat market, and tonnage.

GET PREPARED

The announcement made by Premier Sifton a few weeks ago to the effect that at the next session of the provincial legislature a government measure will be introduced providing for the granting of the franchise to women, and the further announcement that it will be supported by the opposition, makes it reasonable to assume that the women of Alberta will have their vote in the very near future. This being the case the time is now at hand when women must prepare themselves so as to be in a position to cast an intelligent vote on all questions coming before the country. By this we do not mean to say that in the past all men have cast intelligent votes, nor do we infer that there are no women now who could cast intelligent votes, but if women as a whole are to be the heaven which we hope and trust they will be, and are to be so influenced much sought after, they should so prepare themselves as to give an intelligent and unbiased vote on all political, economic and moral questions.

First of all they should sever themselves from the idea that they must vote the same as father, husband or brother votes, otherwise they will simply increase the number of votes cast without altering the result. In this case women would lose their identities and simply vote as fathers, husbands or brothers dictate. But the woman of today is a thinking woman and we venture to predict that such cases as the above will be few.

It is the independent vote to-day which really counts. It is the independent vote which turns out bad governments, defeats undesirable candidates and insists on the enactment of legislation along moral and other lines. Of course there are independent men but there is also a large percentage who are what is called party men; men who vote for a certain party because their fathers and grandfathers voted that way.

If, therefore, when the proper time comes, woman from the start assume an independent attitude and vote in the interests of their town, district, province and people, they will hold the balance of power and sway the destinies of this province. They may become the personification of justice and hold the provincial scales in their hands. To do this and to be this they must start now—if they have not already done so—to acquaint themselves with all public questions upon which they will be called to vote in the near future.

According to the Calgary papers the C. P. R. is going to make some very needed sanitary improvements at the stock yards in that city. Now that the C. P. R. is starting to look after the sanitary conditions of its stock yards it might be a good idea if their attention were drawn to the station at Medicine Hat. For a terminal point the station at Medicine Hat has the poorest accommodation—especially for ladies—of any other town on the map.

Hon. Arthur Meighen, who has been solicitor-general of Canada, has been taken into the Dominion cabinet as solicitor-general. In the past the holder of this office was not considered a member of the cabinet, but in future he will be. Mr. Meighen is one of the ablest members in the house. He is young, full of vigor and an excellent debater. His admission to the cabinet will,

AT A RECENT BATTLE IN FLANDERS
Artillerymen placing a big gun in position for action

therefore, add strength to that body.

Ever since the war broke out Mr. Meighen has been untiring in his efforts to encourage recruiting, and build up the Patriotic Fund.

The new cabinet minister is a brother of Mrs. D. F. R. Robertson of this town.

SOME EXPERT ADVICE.

At the recent convention at Chicago of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, the following significant statements were made:

"Get the smaller towns around you lined up and working with the farmers to show them how to produce better crops, how to use the government bulletins, how to market their produce to better advantage, how to get railway and truck lines and better highway systems. Promote a spirit of friendliness instead of one of selfish rivalry. Get acquainted with your neighbor, you might like him."

"Unless a municipality does some municipal thinking, it will never attain full development as a municipality. The leading citizens' must be able to see beyond their own interests. Every one who is able and willing to work must have an opportunity. It is useless that kills. A municipality will not enjoy a healthy growth unless all parts of it are developed symmetrically. The leaders in a municipality should make a study of municipal conscience and consciousness, and there should be no selfishness mixed with it."

General News Notes

From Various Points

Joe Martin got the Liberal nomination for the Federal House for Carleton at a convention held Saturday afternoon at Ashcroft, B. C. "Fighting Joe" can't keep out of politics.

Eight Austrians were arrested in Bradford, Ont., as they were about to take a radial car out of the city. The men, it is believed, were making an attempt to get out of the country and back to Austria to fight. They were locked up, and probably will be interned.

Senator Stephen Pichen, former foreign minister of France, declared in an interview that the allies have guns and shells enough to carry the present offensive to victory. The weather is now one of the most important factors. It may make or mar the success of important movements.

A London artillery officer writes that, as in the earlier battles of the war, victory in the latest fighting was mainly a question of which side had the biggest supply of shells. Our supply was unlimited, but the Germans had to economize in ammunition, therefore they lost.

The London Irish Territorials, whose formation has been the special care of John Redmond and other Nationalist leaders, took a distinguished part in the last fighting. Advice received in London show they captured half the mining town of Loos, and completely wiped out the 2nd Silesian regiment, not one man being left. The price of victory was heavy, but the effect of the news will fill up other battalions of the regiment now being formed.

The Manitoba government has appointed Chief Justice Mathers a special commissioner to investigate allegations of wrong doing in connection with the construction of the Manitoba law courts building in Winnipeg and the power house in conjunction. The National Construction Company has the main contract for this work, which is now nearing completion, at a figure in excess of $1,000,000. Thomas Kelly and Sons had a sub-contract for the cut stonework on the law courts.

Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, delivered to the secretary of the German government a note from the German government concerning the Arabic case which, it is understood, affords a reasonable basis for the settlement of the question.

H. D. Anderson, who handled the government's seed grain at Winnipeg, is charged with stealing seed grain and the amount is said to be placed at one or two hundred bushels. It is alleged that Anderson not only stole, but also sold this grain.

N. W. Howell, leader of the O-Canada opposition, made it clear that Canada, if she is to come to numerically alongside other portions of the empire, must give greater war service. He urges that the number of men to be raised should at least be doubled, bringing the figures up to 300,000.

Recent letters from the trenches report that the famous Tipperary song has been completely displaced by the old but still popular hymn, "Onward Christian Soldiers." A son of the writer of that hymn, the Rev. John Hastings-Gould, is now fighting in Flanders with the rank of lieutenant.

Turkey has consented to the emigration of all Armenians who will become naturalized American citizens on their arrival in the United States. An appeal will be made public by the board of commissioners for foreign missions for money to make possible the transportation and change of allegiance of such Armenians.

Stocks of dynamite in France are now being converted into an ingredient for explosives at a co-operative distillery at Pantigny. Clear alcohol is being extracted from beet roots and supplied to the government ammunition factories, where it is used in the making of gun cotton.

The three weeks' strike of the cartilage workers at the plant of the United States Cartridge Company, of Lowell, Mass., ended Friday night when the strikers voted to return to work pending arbitration of the question of wages by the state board of conciliation and arbitration.

Well explains to what depths the government of that country is prepared to go to serve its master, Germany.

The dread war-plague still spreads. It is certain today that through the action of Bulgaria the Balkan states will ultimately be lined up in the conflict. The Bulgarian premier on Monday made a statement which pretty well settled the question.

Two more United States publications of propaganda pro-German propagandists have been denied the privilege of the Canadian mails. Anyone selling or reading them is liable to a fine of $5,000. They are the "Illinois Staats Zeitung," published in Chicago, and the "Abendpost," also printed in Chicago.

General Mehmed Pasha, one of the leaders of the radical Turk party, writing in the "Matin," affirms that the Young Turks have sold Constantinople to Bulgaria with a pledge of receding in exchange Russia's Asiatic possessions, Egypt and all north of Africa, always assuming, of course, that Germany and her allies defeat the entente powers.

News agency dispatch from Petrograd says: "Russia breaks off diplomatic relations with Bulgaria. M. Sazonov, the foreign minister announced, M. Sevinisky, Russian minister to Sofia, is recalled. It is believed hostilities will follow within 24 hours. The Russians are fully prepared to strike."

The grand jury of the supreme court at Sandwich returned a true bill against Albert Katschmidt, a wealthy Detroit German, charged in an indictment with conspiracy in connection with attempts some months ago to dynamite factories and public buildings in Windsor and Walkerville. RED CROSS NOTES

October 23rd is the anniversary of the annihilation of war purposes of the British Red Cross society and the Order of St. John. On that day a special appeal for Red Cross funds will be made throughout the whole of the British Isles.

The London Morning Post speaking of N. 2 Canadian, Stationary hospital, and establishment with 600 beds, states that it is a palace. It has a great double entrance hall, fine stair cases and galleries, and vast salons which give it great exterior magnificence. In details of organization and business efficiency it is said that it could scarcely be improved upon.

Those who wish to keep their soldier friends informed of Canadian happenings should send newspapers through his mails to individual addresses. Interesting scrap books full of recent news are of course acceptable. It should be remembered that the type of fiction most likely to interest the soldiers, who form a very representative class, is popular fiction of a type acceptable in the general reading public. The soldier wants up to date news and reading material which is cheerful and entertaining.

The British Red Cross has established a prisoners of war bureau at Bern, Switzerland. It is under the control of Mrs. Grant Duff, the wife of the British ambassador at Bern. It has been found that food can be sent to British interned in Germany more satisfactorily from a continental depot.

Every English post office is now a collecting depot for books and magazines to be distributed to the soldiers and sailors. There is no need to pay postage or to wrap and address the parcel. By this means there has been secured a large supply of reading material of which there is a constant need.

The Swiss Red Cross has affected the exchange up in date of 8,800 French and German soldiers who are incapacitated for further service. This movement has been temporarily delayed owing to difficulties raised by the German government.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

A Significant Inquiry Touching the Iron and Steel Industry

In the "Daily Iron Trader" of Cleveland, Ohio, appeared an editorial relating the receipt of a letter from a subscriber in Texas who sought information which would enable him to get in touch with British and American exporters of the following iron and steel products: Wires, coils, barbed wire, pipes, compressed air pipes, valves, structural steel, bolts, nuts, rivets, rails and spikes, zinc-bridges, pig iron and cast iron.

The editor calls attention to the fact that this inquiry has resulted through the tariff on steel products being reduced to nearly the same tariff, and that these foreign products would be sold in Texas to the exclusion of American manufacturers.

Thus curtailing the business of American industries.

Reducing American workmen's wages.

Closing down American establishments.

Throwing men out of employment in this country.

Enriching the foreigners.

Building up foreign competition and doing so in America's very particular good.

Omitting will does all a time when the steel industry of the United States is running about one-third of its capacity and thousands of its employees are waiting the streets looking for work. The item promises food for thought for those in Canada who would still further hamper the iron and steel industry of this country by throwing their products open to competition from the whole world. If for no other reason than that it would keep the iron and steel workers employed on full time the Government should view favorably a policy of reasonable encouragement for the iron and steel industry in this country.

It now looks as though the estimate made for the Canadian wheat at the beginning of the season is below what it actually will be by about 100,000,000 bushels. The way wheat is turning out all through the west shows that the average has been grossly underestimated. The total yield is now placed at 340,000,000 bushels.

Great interest was taken by a number of people here in the result of the prohibition vote in Hennepin county, Minnesota, which was held last Monday as a number of our citizens previously resided in that county. Prohibition was defeated by nearly 10,000 of a majority. The city of Minneapolis, which is in this county, gave a wet majority of 7,000 and the country district a majority of over 2,000. Only four of the city wards gave a dry majority. The fact that St. Paul is not in Hennepin county is given as a reason for the way Minneapolis voted. It is predicted, however, that the whole state will go prohibition inside the next three years.

Talk about your growth of vegetables and grain grown in this district this summer, but here's a new one. C. Gibson has in the back yard at his store an apple tree which grew about four feet this summer. The seed was planted last summer and in the fall it was about a foot high. Last spring it started sprouting early and the favorable weather brought it along at a very rapid rate until now it is a good sized bush, over a year and a half high. It is well branched out and those who have seen it say it will bear fruit next summer. Mr. Gibson has given it so much attention but since it has made such progress he intends nursing it through the winter to see how it does next year. He's hoping he will be selling home grown apples in his store next summer.

Greek King Blamed For Present Mix-Up

The breach between King Constantine of Greece, and Premier Venizelos, resulting in the resignation of the prime minister, was totally unexpected to Perley, and has caused painful surprise. French editorial writers have hard things to say of the king, whose German connections always have made him the object of some suspicion.

It is considered that while he signed the mobilization order and consented to the landing of French troops at Saloniki, he does not want to go to war with Bulgaria, Germany's ally.

It is pointed out that Bulgaria wags Saloniki, and Germany covets Asia Minor. The papers assert that, Bulgaria, in doing with Germany, is "digging the grave of Hellenism." It is admitted that the task of the Anglo-French forces has become harder but the assertion is made that it is not beyond their strength. A Bulgarian attack upon Serbia is expected soon.
